After months of negotiation, Geeks-In-Route/866-661-GEEK has finalized negotiations with Marketing Guru Beryl Wolk, who will be providing $1 million + in marketing, for the rapidly expanding on-site computer service provider's nationwide expansion.

After months of negotiations, Geeks-In-Route/866-661-GEEK and IMC/Beryl Wolk have come to an agreement. IMC/Beryl Wolk has agreed to fund the company with $1 Million + in marketing to kick off their nationwide expansion efforts.

Mr. Wolk has been in marketing for over 50 years, and believes that Geeks-In-Route's fresh new business strategies, and market appeal give them the needed edge to become the next Goliath of the industry, giving Geek Squad a good run for their money within the next 2 years.

The President/CEO of the company has a vision of creating a Better World for the computer industry, and believes that Beryl Wolk is the right man to help make that vision a reality.

When asked if the company had plans of going public, Mr. Whitten replied "There is strong talk about it, but nothing is in cement as of yet. You'll just have to wait and see". This is a strong company, with fresh business philosophies, and one should definitely keep an eye on them.
